Dear Parents/Carers,

Your child will bring home a magazine with them today called Digital Parenting. The magazine is written by people in the computing industry for children and families. All of its content concerns e-Safety. The articles discuss how to stay safe when using different types of technology including the internet. They also discuss different ways you can protect your child when they are on line or using different electronic equipment. It is full of practical easy to follow tips for parents, no matter how confident you feel about using technology.

Please spend some time reading through the articles together learning good habits, whether you are online, using mobile phone or taking pictures with digital cameras.

Yours sincerely

C D Soyka

Deputy Headteacher
